HELLO, WELCOME AND LEARN FROM THE BINDJAREB PEOPLE OF THE NOONGAR NATION

Whether you have travelled far or from just down the road, we welcome you to our land and invite you to explore our region.

The first people of this region were the Bindjareb people of the Noongar Nation, who named the locality Mandjoogoordap (now Mandurah) which translates to 'meeting place of the heart.'

The Noongar people have long since inhabited the historic lands of the Mandurah area, dating back thousands of years.

The Aboriginal community of Mandurah are custodians of the land which centres on our waterways, rivers, lakes, the estuary, the ocean, and coastal plains creating an historic thoroughfare in Mandurah today.

It's time to satisfy your pent-up desire to explore more. And what better way to do that than with a trip to the sunny seaside, brimming with activities on water, in nature.

We can't wait to welcome you to Mandurah, heart of the Peel Region in Western Australia.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF COUNTRY

Visit Mandurah acknowledges the Bindjareb people as traditional custodians of this land. We acknowledge and respect their continuing culture and the unique contribution they make to the life of this community.

ARE YOU
READY TO HUNT
GIANTS?

Come on an extraordinary quest, as we go hunting for Giants. Located throughout Mandurah, this magical adventure will take you into some of the city's most iconic landscapes and breathtaking scenery with the most fantastical reward at the end.

Initiated and produced by FORM Building a State of Creativity, the 'Giants of Mandurah' by world-renowned Danish artist Thomas Dambo is an Australian first cultural tourism project.

Thomas Dambo's sculptures are protectors of the environment and cleverly hidden around Mandurah in a free-to-view interactive outdoor exhibition that requires you to find them, following a trail of clues.

Start your expedition at the Mandurah Visitor Centre, where you can collect a souvenir guide which provides the coordinates to help you find the locations. Set aside a few hours, as you will need to drive to the designated car parks and walk along the signposted paths to find them. Some walks are longer than others with varying degrees of accessibility. ## ABOUT THE CREATOR

Thomas Dambo is the world's leading recycle artist. He was taught from a young age about the value of recycling, sustainability, and unlimited imagination. And so to share that message and inspire people to get out into nature, Thomas creates larger-than-life sculptures from recycled wood, and Mandurah is one of the very lucky places across the world to have them for you to enjoy.

CELEBRATING THE BLUEY

(AKA BLUE MANNA CRABS)

📍 Mandjar Bay, Mandurah

CRABBING

Blue swimmer crabs are native to Mandurah, and the area is renowned for them. You'll see the blue swimmer crab make an appearance in many art pieces across the city. We love them so much we have a whole festival, Mandurah Crab Fest, in honour of them.

You can dive for crabs or use drop nets from boats, but most prefer walking along the shoreline with wire scoop nets.

Crabbing season opens on 1 December. By January the Peel-Harvey Estuary is swimming with full size crabs ready for your dinner table. Early morning or evening in January is the best time to catch them.

RULES FOR CRABBING

You don't need a license to catch crabs unless you are fishing from a boat, but the rules and regulations still apply. Crabbing season is from 1 December to 31 August and there are minimum size and bag limit regulations.

If you are on a boat, you will need a 'fishing from boat' license. Go to fish.wa.gov.au for full details.

The minimum size limit is 127mm. The size of a crab is measured from the tips of its spikes across the widest part of the shell. Measure accurately using a crab gauge available from the Mandurah Visitor Centre, fishing tackle shops or use the size gauge on this page.

Keeping undersized crabs or egg-carrying ('berried') females is illegal and you could be fined up to $5000 AUD. These crabs must be returned to the water immediately, before attempting to catch another crab.

The bag limit for scoop net fishers is 10 crabs per person per day and they must be for your personal use. You can not catch crabs for anyone else. A bag limit of 20 crabs is applicable to those caught from a boat.

If you use a powered boat to fish for crabs or to reach your fishing location, at least one person on board needs a Recreational Fishing from Boat Licence (RFBL), available for purchase from the Department of Fisheries.

See full details on crabbing rules in the Mandurah area here: www.fish.wa.gov.au/Documents/recreational\_fishing/additional\_fishing\_information/crabbing\_for\_blue\_swimmer\_crabs\_west\_coast.pdf

BEST LOCATIONS

Here are our tips for some good places to go crabbing:

- Mandjar Bay
- Mandurah Estuary
- The Peel Inlet-Harvey Estuary by Boundary Island
- Sticks Channel
- Mandurah Estuary Bridge
- Dawesville Cut

Our Tip: Visit the Mandurah Visitor Centre before heading out and ask if there are any new good spots this crabbing season.

Please check: Some areas around Mandurah are protected nature reserves and off-limits for crabbing all year around. Look out for signs before you start crabbing to make sure it is an approved area.

CAST OUT A LINE

Fish for herring, sand whiting, bream, cobbler, tailor, or garfish in the Mandurah Estuary. In season you can fish for salmon and tailor on the beach, and the Dawesville Cut is the best place to catch King George whiting. If you forget your gear, don't worry, fishing and crabbing gear can be hired from Mandurah Boat Hire. Just remember, a license is required for freshwater and boat fishing, this can be obtained via fish.wa.gov.au.

You can catch trout and redfin all year in Lake Navarino/Waroona Dam and Drakesbrook Weir in Waroona. In the Murray River you can fish for black bream, mulloway and whiting. Upstream, the river has been stocked with trout. At Preston Beach, fish for whiting, herring, skipper and salmon (when they run) straight from the beach.

Why not learn tips and tricks from the pros and get access to the best spots to catch seafood?

Skills2Fish in Mandurah provide fishing clinics for kids and guided beach fishing excursions.

HOW TO CLEAN & PREPARE A BLUE MANNA CRAB

Now you've caught some nice full-sized crabs, but what to do next to be able to enjoy them?

WELL, HERE YOU GO:

- Ensure your crabs are dormant by putting them into the freezer for about 20 minutes.
- Turn the crab over.
- Pull the triangular flap down.
- Pull the triangular flap away from the body of the crab.

Peel-Harvey Estuary

- Ensure that the triangular flap and attached underside of the crab are completely removed from the main body of the crab.
- Remove the grey gills of the crab.
- Scoop out the insides of the crab.
- Once you have washed your crab under freshwater it's ready to use and cook.

It's best to cook crabs a few hours after they've been caught, as they usually die quickly. Bring crabs to the boil in salted water, then simmer for 5-6 minutes (longer for more crabs). Once cooked, place in cool water. Serve with bread, lemon, vinegar or seafood sauce.

WHERE TO BUY CRABS

If you don't have much luck catching your own crabs, you can buy fresh local crabs here.

- Wattsies Place
- Fisho Singleton
- Fisho at Gilbert's Fresh Market

FOR THE NATURE LOVERS

Salt and Bush Eco Tours at Peel-Harvey Estuary

Take a deep breath. Now exhale.
Relax by nature.

The region boasts a wealth of protected waterways, national parks and nature reserves, all providing a diverse range of natural experiences.

Wide open spaces, towering forests and winding waterways make this the perfect destination to immerse yourself in the natural environment. Spot native animals, listen to the wind brush past the reeds, breathe in the briny air as the sunshine makes your skin tingle.

Happy exploring.

A TRUE MANDURAH ASSET – THE PEEL-HARVEY ESTUARY

The Peel-Harvey Estuary is a wonderful water network to discover and enjoy. In the early 1990's a channel was constructed to join the Peel-Harvey Estuary to the Indian Ocean. Known as the Dawesville Cut it allows seawaters from the Indian Ocean to move in and out of the estuarine system, essentially assisting in flushing it out and keeping it healthy.

As such, tens of thousands of waterbirds, including large numbers of migrant shorebirds from the northern hemisphere, also choose to come and stay for their summer breaks.

CREERY WETLANDS NATURE RESERVE

This 29-hectare nature reserve has a series of connected boardwalks and pathways with informative signage and birdwatching areas. The area is a fascinating and enjoyable environment to explore.

SAMPHIRE COVE NATURE RESERVE

Located in Halls Head, on the north-western side of the Peel Inlet, the reserve includes scenic boardwalks, two bird hides (one with all-abilities access), an information shelter and a barbecue area nearby.

LEN HOWARD CONSERVATION PARK

Situated by the shores of the Peel Inlet and Mandurah Estuary, the Len Howard Conservation Park in Erskine features walking trails along the estuary and wetlands, birdwatching sites and a grassed area for picnics.

LAKE GOEGRUP NATURE RESERVE

Forming part of the Serpentine River system, the Greenfields reserve includes a walk trail that runs along the Serpentine River, providing an experience of river and wetland environments. Check out the accessibility-friendly 292-metre-long boardwalk with viewing nodes and interpretive panels describing the area's environmental and Aboriginal cultural values.

ISLAND POINT RESERVE

Situated on the shores of Peel-Harvey Estuary, the reserve provides a lovely, sheltered beach for swimming or birdwatching and bush trails to wander.

YALGORUP NATIONAL PARK

Stretching from south of Mandurah to Preston Beach, the park has ten elongated lakes, beautiful tuart and peppermint woodlands, walking trails, picnic spots and offers panoramic views of the beach, dunes and lakes. It is home to a variety of native animals and birds and wildflowers are prolific in season.

"Wonder at the world-class natural beauty and easily spot native wildlife as you explore by water or land."

PERKS OF THE PEEL-YALGORUP WETLANDS SYSTEM

This diverse and productive ecosystem covers over 26,000 hectares and is comprised of estuaries, lakes, rivers and conservation reserves, including Yalgorup National Park, Lake Mealup Nature Reserve and Lake McLarty Nature Reserve, Austin Bay Nature Reserve and Creery Wetlands Nature Reserve.

It was declared as Wetlands of International Importance in 1990 by the Ramsar Convention and is the largest and most diverse estuarine complex in the south west of Western Australia. Not only is it a remarkable site for the senses, it also provides a habitat and breeding ground for thousands of plants and animals.

Island Point, Herron

STARGAZING

Lake Clifton's faraway desolate setting, free of light pollution, makes for excellent stargazing. Salt and Bush Eco Tours offer stargazing tours in season. Lake Clifton is also a truly unique spot for some astrophotography with the Thrombolites in the foreground. With the beauty of the night sky in the background, you're bound to get some insta-worthy snaps.

LAKE CLIFTON THROMBOLITES

Also in Yalgorup National Park is the thrombolite reef at Lake Clifton, offering visitors a glimpse of what life was like when the earth began. It plays an important role to the natural environment and supports threatened ecological species and communities such as the Lake Clifton thrombolites.

Found in only a few places in the world, scientists believe that thrombolites are one of the first life forms on earth, dating back approximately 570 million years, producing the oxygen that made all subsequent life possible. The Lake Clifton thrombolites are approximately 2,000 years old and the largest in the southern hemisphere.

You can view them from a boardwalk over the lake with January to May being the best time to see them, when the water levels are low. The thrombolites are culturally significant, include great spots for recreational activities and provide a wealth of educational and scientific research opportunities.

OUR COUNTRY AND CULTURE

Mandjoogoordap Dreaming

ABORIGINAL CREATION STORY

"In the beginning, all across the land was a terrible drought. The Aboriginal people of Mandurah found no waterways, so danced and sung on the beaches, calling to the great Wagyl to come out of the sea. She came, and created the Peel inlet and estuary. She found she was carrying eggs, so rested until her eggs hatched. Too tired, she instructed her babies to do the rest of the work, sending them out to create the Serpentine River, the Murray River and the Harvey River which formed the unique shape of Mandurah today. The curved design of the seawall at Mandurah's Eastern Foreshore represents the Wagyl."

The first people of the region were the Bindjareb people of the Noongar Nation, who named this place Mandjoogoordap. It's commonly known today as Mandurah, translating to 'meeting place of the heart.'

WALK AND WANDER

As you meander around Mandurah, you'll come to notice many Aboriginal art pieces and sculptures, such as the magnificent Welcome to Country mural on the wall of the Mandurah Visitor Centre and the Bonu-Wongie - Message Stick located on the Mandurah Eastern Foreshore. It's a sculpture representing an invitation to the City of Mandurah from the Winjan Aboriginal Community to work together.

"Enrich your knowledge and understanding of Aboriginal culture by listening to their stories, their customs and their traditions."

While on the western end of the Mandurah Bridge you can see a welcome to country written in Noongar dialect.

Yaburgurt Memorial at Mandjar Square celebrates and commemorates the life of Aboriginal leader, Yaburgurt, a survivor of the Pinjarra Massacre of 1834 and Connection at Stingray Bay is a sculpture honouring the spirit of the site's traditional owners and its significance as an ancient meeting place.

Walk the three kilometre long Seascapes Walkway in Halls Head. It's a footpath that takes you to Falcon, featuring interpretive signs along the way on native plant species and the traditional Aboriginal use of plants and animals.

GO FOUR-WHEEL DRIVING

Did you know that Mandurah is the closest place to Perth you can drive right on the beach? Let your vehicle feel the sand between its tyres, stop and have a swim, cook lunch on the beach and do a spot of fishing. Preston Beach, White Hills Beach and Tim's Thicket are the best spots to go.

You can also 4WD in the bush on the Captain Fawcett Commemorative 4x4 trail (open seasonally) which starts near Dwellingup and finishes at Quindanning, south of Boddington. This 105 kilometre track showcases some of Western Australia's best jarrah forests, historical farm houses, original settler trestle bridges, minor creek crossings and magnificent views. Before entering the track, you will have to lower your tyres' pressure to prevent getting bogged in the sand.

Be sure to pay attention to the tide and turn back if the tide is coming in. And keep in mind that 4WD driving is prohibited in the dunes and is only permitted on the beach and that no other vehicles are allowed including dirt bikes, four wheelers or buggies.

The Cut Golf Course, Mandurah

With several immaculately kept, superbly designed courses set in spectacular locations, the region is a golfing holiday dream and is sure to excite and challenge golfers of all abilities. In one instance you could be teeing off by the ocean, in another, watching kangaroos graze as you play on fairways surrounded by bushlands. But hey, that's golfing on WA's golfing coast.
